So I got an inquiry about my windshield strip asking for dimensions etc. I figured I would post up the info for all to see in case anyone else wants to know.

At the sides of the windshield the strip measures exactly 9 1/2 inches. At the "peak" in the middle it measure exactly 7 3/8 inches. The peak lines up with the bottom of the inside rearview mirror mount, see pic example.

I tried to include photos with the visor up, angled and down to give a good idea of how it looks in different positions. Let me know if you have more questions.

My gas cap has never stayed on like that. I have always had to put it on the other side of the flap.
